Em geral, existem vários métodos todos para detectar e lidar com valores atípicos. Estes métodos estatísticos incluem:

- Métodos gráficos, como a caixa a plotadas e diagrama de dispersão;
- Métodos estatísticos, como o método de Z-Score e os métodos todos das medidas a distância;
- Métodos robusto, como a média mediana e o método do quartil truncado.

Valores atípicos podem ser importantes e podem influenciar significativamente os resultados de uma análise, especialmente se a amostra for pequena e por isso que é importante detectar ou lidar com valores atípicos da forma apropriada - dependendo do objetivo na análise dos dados. Em geral, existem três métodos principais para lidar com valores atípicos:

Masters of Horror is an anthology television series created by director Mick Garris for the Showtime cable network.

Origin [edit 4, 1] In 2002, director Mick Garris invited some director friends to an informal dinner at a restaurant in Sherman Oaks, California. The original ten "masters" attending were John Carpenter, Larry Cohen, Don Coscarelli, Joe Dante, Guillermo del Toro, Stuart Gordon, Tobe Hooper, John Landis, Bill Malone, and Garris himself.

Subsequently, Garris organized regular dinners with the group and invited other horror and other genre directors to attend, including Dario Argento, Eli Roth, Wes Craven, David Cronenberg, Tim Sullivan, Rob Zombie, Bryan Singer, Fred Dekker, William Lustig, Lucky McKee, Ernest Dickerson, Katt Shea, Quentin Tarantino, Robert Rodriguez, James Gunn, Mary Lambert, Peter Medak, Ti West, Lloyd Kaufman, and others. In 2005, Garris created and produced an original anthology television series of one-hour movies, written and directed by many of the "masters" which was originally broadcast in the U.S. on the Showtime cable network. In several international territories, the films were released theatrically.

The series debuted to excellent reviews in the U.S. on October 28, 2005, with the premiere episode "Incident On and Off a Mountain Road"; co-written and directed by Don Coscarelli, based on the short story by Joe R. Lansdale. New episodes premiered every Friday at 10 p.m. EST throughout the series' two seasons. The show followed an anthology series format, with each episode featuring a one-hour film directed by a well-known horror filmmaker.
